About Clusivity

Clusivity is a forward-thinking British startup, now three years into its journey.

?? Their missions to empower businesses with DEI data solutions that pave the way for a more equitable workplace.

?? Their visions to create a world where people from historically marginalised groups are able to flourish.

They are dedicated to making this vision a reality through using data to drive organisations to build more diverse and inclusive workplaces. As a remote-first team, they thrive on collaboration and believe that our collective efforts can make a lasting impact.
